Quarter-Scale Patterns

The ready-to-print patterns on the following pages are used to create the Mini-Me dress forms shown below. The different patterns are identified by the names of the models used to make bespoke fitting shells that these Mini-Mes were developed from. The instructions for creating and using these forms are explained in the book Fashion and Costume Design in Quarter Scale. Several variations for the look of the forms are included.

Master Patterns

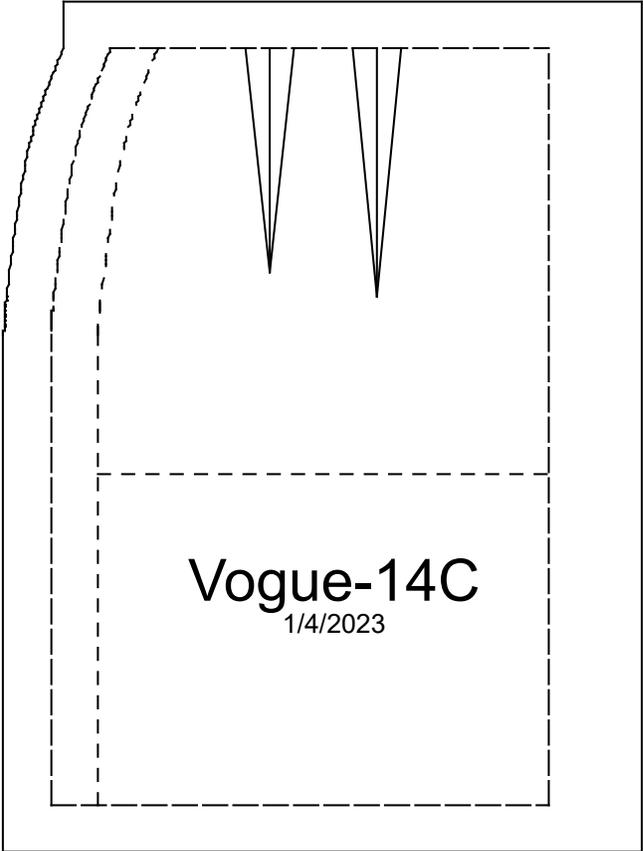

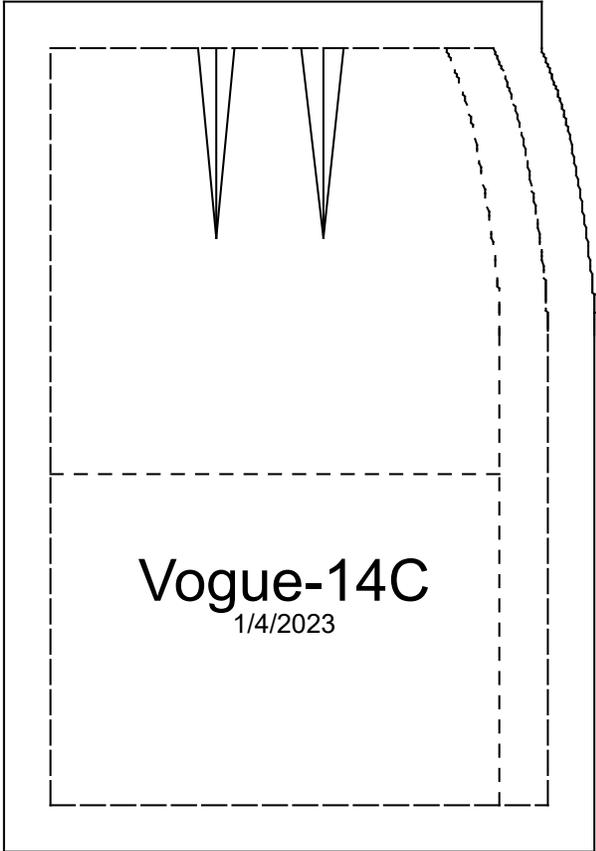

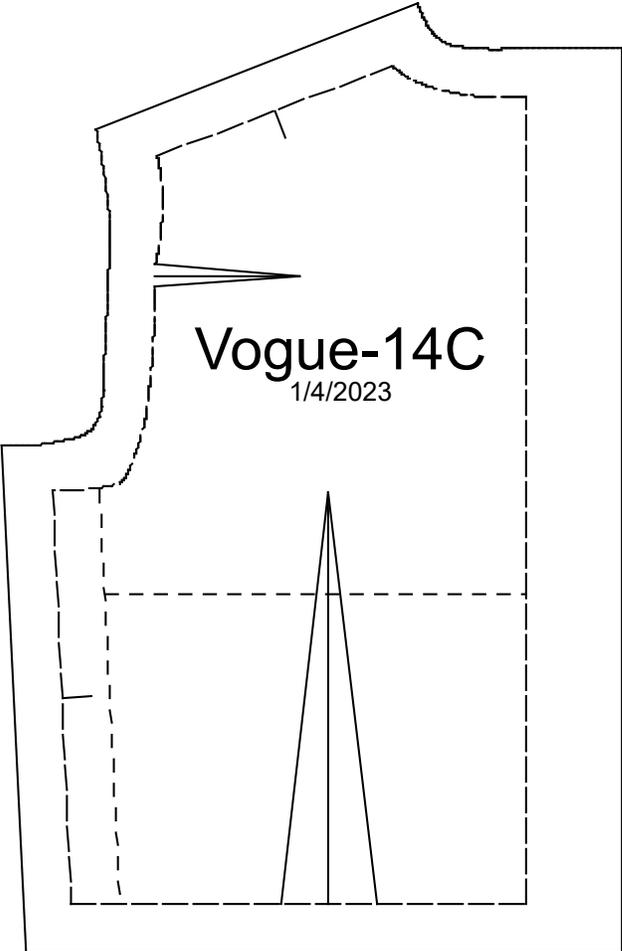

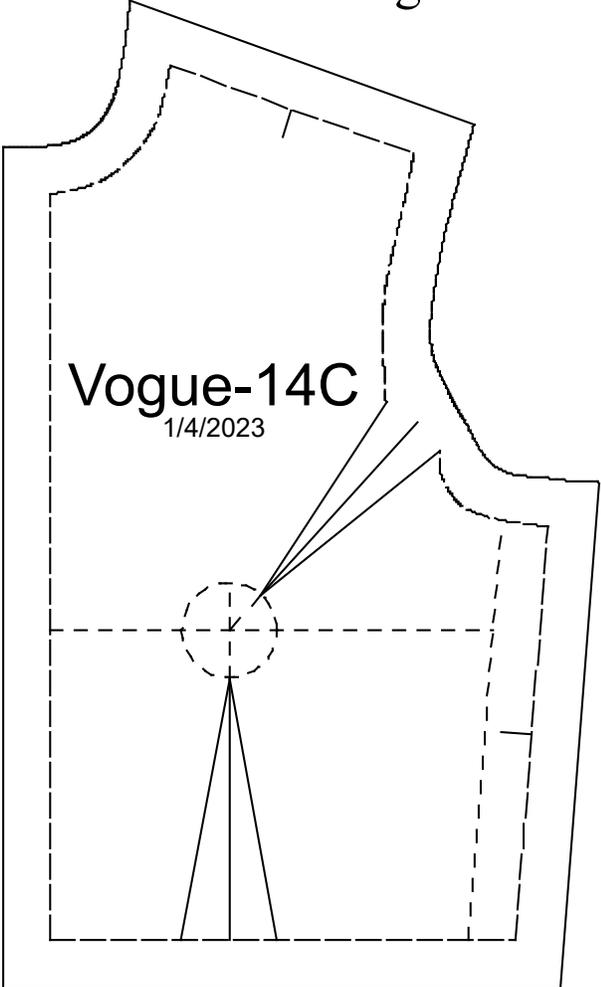

Master Patterns are the patterns used to create other designs. The patterns on the following pages are ready-to-print Master Patterns for the Mini-Mes of the previous pages. They can be printed on copy paper and cut out as is for Fitting Shells shown. They can also be used to create other designs as described in the books How to Make Sewing Patterns and Fashion and Costume Design in Quarter Scale.

While Master Patterns can be shown with or without seam allowances the following pages include seam allowances to distinguish these patterns from the Mini-Me dress form patterns on the previous pages. The following patterns are labeled with the names that correspond to the various Mini-Me dress forms. They are also dated. All patterns should be labeled and dated to keep a record whenever changes are made.
